East Africa Infrastructure Projects and Disputes

LALIVE Partner Bernd Ehle, Associate Baptiste Rigaudeau, and Deputy Counsel for the International Chamber of Commerce Benjamin Ng'eno, provide insights into the dispute resolution practice relating to infrastructure projects in East Africa, highlighting the impact of China's Belt and Road Initiative in a bilingual English/French article published in the International Business Law Journal (here). They also provide an overview of the arbitration landscape and an outlook on the future of infrastructure related disputes in the region.
