Yas Banifatemi is a partner in Shearman & Sterling's International Arbitration Group, acting as Deputy Practice Leader for the Group. She also leads the firm's Public International Law Practice and is a co-Leader of the firm's Energy practice. She acts as counsel and arbitrator and has extensive experience under all major arbitration rules, with specific focus on investment protection, oil & gas and commercial matters. She also advises and represents States, State-owned entities and companies on public international law matters. Yas Banifatemi is a Vice-President of the ICC International Court of Arbitration and a Member of the LCIA Court.

Catherine Anne Kunz is an associate at LALIVE specialising in international arbitration. She is dual-qualified in Switzerland and in England and Wales (solicitor). Catherine has acted as counsel and as arbitrator in numerous international arbitration proceedings, in particular in the energy, telecommunications and construction sectors. Catherine is a member of the editorial board of the ASA Bulletin (the Swiss Arbitration Association's journal) and has recently been appointed regional representative (Europe) for the LCIA Young International Arbitration Group (YIAG). She graduated from the University of Fribourg, Switzerland (2007).

Michelle Glassman Bock is a US-qualified attorney based in WilmerHale's Frankfurt office. She previously practiced in the firm's Brussels, London, and Washington, DC offices. Michelle regularly represents clients in international arbitration disputes governed by both civil and common laws. Her practice focuses on commercial arbitrations, both institutional and ad hoc, including disputes regarding technology, energy, price reopeners, automotive, manufacturing and distribution, shareholder disputes, etc. Michelle regularly works with issues in relation to expert testimony, including technical and quantitative experts. She is a frequent speaker and lecturer on international arbitration topics.

Anna Masser's practice focuses on international commercial arbitration from all perspectives. She is acting as counsel and arbitrator in complex disputes including gas price reviews, distribution and licensing contracts, international trade deals and other, usually cross-border disputes. She also advises parties on the enforcement of arbitral awards and represents clients before state courts in Germany and Switzerland. Prior to joining Jones Day in Frankfurt, Anna spent seven years working out of Switzerland. She has experience under various institutional rules and in ad-hoc arbitration. Anna is member of the Global Advisory Board of ICDR Y&I and is past co-chair of DIS40.

Evgeniya Goriatcheva is Legal Counsel at the Permanent Court of Arbitration in The Hague, where she has for five years assisted arbitral tribunals in international commercial, investment and inter-State arbitrations, recently including the Arctic Sunrise Arbitration (Netherlands v. Russian Federation). She co-authored the Guide to the PCA Arbitration Rules (Oxford University Press, 2014). She earned her B.C.L. and LL.B. degrees from the McGill Faculty of Law in 2010 (Dean's List) and is a qualified lawyer in Quebec, Canada (2014). She is also a member of Young ICCA.

Roula Harfouche is a Partner at Accuracy in London. She specialises in contentious valuations, with over 17 years' experience in complex damage assessments in arbitration and litigation cases involving contract breaches, investment treaty claims, transaction-related disputes, and IP infringement. She has been appointed as expert, has testified, and has been involved in matters in LCIA, ICC, SCC and ICSID arbitration forums, under the UNCITRAL rules, and before the UK High Court, Family Division and Patents Court. Roula is a Fellow of the Institute of Chartered Accountants in England & Wales and a member of the Society of Share and Business Valuers.

As counsel in Hogan Lovells' Munich office, Inken Knief focuses on International Arbitration and Complex Litigation. Inken has extensive experience in international litigation and arbitration, both ad hoc and institutional, seated in various jurisdictions such as Germany, Austria, Switzerland and France, and governed by various substantive and procedural laws. She acts as counsel, assists arbitrators and acts as arbitrator in court litigation and arbitration proceedings. Inken has dealt extensively with issues regarding conflict and civil procedures, as well as different aspects of public international law and EC law.

Olga Hamama is a member of Freshfields Bruckhaus Deringer's international dispute resolution practice. She focuses on international commercial arbitration, cross-border litigation as well as investment and sports arbitration. Olga serves on the Editorial Board of the Journal of International Arbitration and is Co-Chair of DIS40 (the initiative of young arbitration practitioners of the German Institution of Arbitration).

Annabelle Möckesch is an associate in the Dispute Resolution Group of Schellenberg Wittmer in Zurich, specializing in international arbitration. She has acted as counsel and legal secretary to arbitral tribunals in arbitrations under a variety of arbitration rules. Annabelle graduated from Humboldt University Berlin (2008). She obtained an LL.M. in International Business Law from London School of Economics and Political Science (2009) and a PhD from Heidelberg University (2015). She is co-chair of Young ArbitralWomen Practitioners (YAWP).
