DIS40 Spring Conference 2019

The Nuts and Bolts of Construction Arbitration From a lawyer's, expert's and in- house counsel's perspective

Construction disputes are omnipresent in the world of international arbitration. Many of us are involved in this special field of disputes at some stage of our careers. As several aspects of construction arbitration differ somewhat from “regular” arbitration proceedings, this conference seeks to give insight into the foundations and particularities of construction arbitration from the perspective of different participants in the proceedings. Experienced lawyers, experts and in-house counsel will shed some light on this exciting area of arbitration.
