You are invited: Global Litigation and Ultra High Net Worth Individuals: Unique Challenges and Strategic Opportunities

With substantial asset bases and prominent public profiles, ultra-high-net-worth individuals (UHNWIs) are particularly vulnerable to multijurisdictional disputes ranging from commercial litigation, to intra- and inter-family disputes, to criminal charges and sanctions.

For advisors to UHNWIs – including lawyers, wealth advisors, and PR/crisis communicators – understanding the broad trajectory of UHNW disputes, and the various triggers that indicate you need to deploy strategies to mitigate a deeper problem on the horizon, is essential to strengthening and expanding our relationships with our UHNW clients.

Kobre & Kim’s series of virtual panel sessions, “Global Litigation and Ultra High Net Worth Individuals: Unique Challenges and Strategic Opportunities” will cover the full spectrum of UHNWI litigation and the offensive and defensive measures that can be deployed to defend or attack an UHNWI’s assets, liberty, and reputation.

RSVP

Join our first session on Tuesday, May 5th, for an overview of the spectrum and triggers of UHNWI litigation, followed by our first panel on commercial litigation and insolvency. Subsequent sessions will follow on Wednesday, May 6th and Thursday May 7th.

Please click on RSVP to register for the webinar sessions you are interested in attending. After registering, you will receive further details and instructions on how to join.
