Commissions in Sales of Art: an attorney and an art advisor discuss third-party representatives in art sales.

About this Event

What is the role of a third-party representative in an art sale, and what is their relationship to the buyer and seller? What should buyers and sellers have in mind when entering into agreements with art advisors and appraisers? How much commission is too much commission? The sale of art raises many questions about the best practices for third-party representatives and calls upon many experts to weigh in.

Join us for a program with art attorney Sandrine Giroud, Attorney and Partner at LALIVE (CH), and Elizabeth Von Habsburg, Managing Director at Winston Art Group (NY), to discuss the ethics and good practices surrounding third-party representatives in art sales. The panel will be moderated by Irina Tarsis, Founder and Managing Director of the Center for Art Law and NY attorney.
