

NAVIGATING THE FRONTIERS OF ARTIFICIAL INTELLIGENCE IN ARBITRATION

THE CONCRETE IMPLICATIONS OF AI FOR USERS, COUNSEL AND ARBITRATORS

19 October 2023, 17:00-19:00 | Zurich

Are you curious and/or concerned about how AI will affect international arbitration over the coming years? Then join us in Zurich for an interactive workshop that will explore some of the concrete ways in which AI will likely contribute to fact-finding, advocacy and decision-making.

The release of ChatGPT in late 2022 unleashed a fresh wave of fear and excitement about AI's future role in the daily life of lawyers. While the specifics of that role remain unclear, it is a good time for the next generation of arbitration practitioners to take stock of how AI is likely to change the nature of their work in the years and decades to come.

This workshop, which is kindly hosted by Schellenberg Wittmer, will explore some of the common tasks in arbitration that AI is, or could in the future be, well suited for, as well as how those uses could affect staffing on arbitration cases. Our speakers will assess three emerging AI-enabled tools, each for different aspects of the arbitration process: (i) document review and fact-finding, (ii) selecting arbitrators, and (iii) factual/legal reasoning and decision-making. Service-provider representatives will present their respective experience with AI-tools, while experienced arbitration practitioners will then comment on the potential and limitations of those tools, as well as on their longer-term implications for the legal profession. We also look forward to hearing the views of our audience members on these tools and AI more generally.

Space is limited, so please register early.
